

Picking Up The Threads

The Yorkshire Quaker Archives

in Leeds University Library

Wednesday 4 April 2012, 2 -4 pm

Special Collections department, Brotherton Library,

University of Leeds

Are you interested in Quaker archives, or involved with producing Quaker records now? Or more broadly curious about Yorkshire Quaker history? This event is an opportunity to learn about Leeds University Library's very extensive (and continually developing) collection of Yorkshire Quaker archives, which stretch from the 17th century to the present day, and to view an exhibition drawn from the archives.

There is no charge for this event but numbers are limited. To book (and for directions), please e-mail r.high@leeds.ac.uk or telephone 0113 3436377. Tea and coffee will be available from 1.30 pm.
